SMI Server

Integrated electronic security system

The solution for global and centralised security management and supervision

SMI Server is built around an integrated electronic security solution designed to be adaptable to a range of security requirements, from the most basic to the most advanced.

SMI Server is an upgradable system consisting of several modules for managing all electronic security functions:

access control, intrusion detection, CCTV systems and supervision.

Additional functions such as multi-site management, a web interface and compatibility with other systems make SMI Server a powerful and user-friendly solution.
